Rajkot: The Gujarat high court's directives for the rehabilitation of Morbi bridge collapse victims have not been properly implemented by the officials of the Morbi district collector's office, alleged kin of the victims through their association.

In a letter submitted to the Morbi collector recently, the association expressed concerns and claimed that employees of the collector's office were favouring Oreva Group, which has been ordered to rehabilitate the victims and their kin.

March 22, directed the district collector to provide a comprehensive report on the victims. However, the Morbi Tragedy Victims' Association, which represents the families of 112 victims, alleged that "As per the high court's order Oreva has to provide financial and medical help to the victims through the collector's office but the work of survey was not done properly."

The association also expressed concern saying, "The owners of the responsible company (Oreva) have political and financial dominance and we feel that they are making your people (officials of collectorate) work as per their interest in this matter by using their influence."

They urged the collector to adhere to the high court's order in letter and spirit and ensure that the officials work without any pressure or fear.

Dubai flyer caught carrying gold worth Rs 18L in airpods

SURAT: When thousands of passengers landing at or taking off from the Dubai Airport were worried for their lives due to the flooding there, a man was working on how to bring gold to India without paying duties.

He succeeded and his flight was among the last few to take off amid heavy rain.

However, he ran out of luck when he landed at Surat International Airport (SIA) on Wednesday. Customs officials recovered 240 gram of gold worth Rs 18 lakh from the passenger. The gold consignment included four pieces hidden in the cavity of airpod charging cases and one gold semicircular piece fixed inside a mini juice blender. The recovered gold was of 24 carat purest form. In the juicer, the gold piece was fixed in place of a magnetic part.

In the airpod, the earplugs were inside the charging case and working. The man used the cavity inside the airpod charging cases and got gold pieces prepared of accurate size.

After the arrival of the Dubai flight at Surat, the passenger was asked to step aside. The passenger did not disclose if he was carrying any valuables that attract import duty. The officials examined his luggage but failed to recover anything. Meanwhile, customs officials noticed packed boxes of airpod. The airpods were packed like brand new company packed boxes. On suspicion, the officials opened the boxes. There were earplugs inside the charging case. It again confused the officials but ultimately one more attempt helped them reveal gold bars when they separated the case cover from internal parts.

Woman hurt as guard closes society gate, complaint filed

Ahmedabad: A 50-year-old man from the Shahibaug area of the city on Sunday filed a complaint with police alleging that his wife suffered injuries on her head and shoulder when a security guard suddenly closed a remote operated gate at their residential society when she was riding her scooter.

Rajesh Jain, who works as a share broker, said in his FIR with Shahibaug police that he along with his wife Kajal and their two children live at Orchid Green society in Girdharnagar locality of Shahibaug.

Rajesh alleged in the FIR that his society's chairman Kesarimal Jain and secretary Naresh Shah had instructed the society's watchman Shailesh Patni to keep watch on his family. He alleged that Kesarimal and Shah were harassing them so that he would vacate his house.

He alleged in the FIR that on Jan 16, Kajal was riding her scooter and when she was about to enter the society, Patni suddenly closed the remote operated gate which hit Kajal and she fell down.

She was admitted to a private hospital near Vijay Crossroads where she was diagnosed with internal injuries.

When Rajesh raised this issue with Kesarimal and Shah, they threatened Rajesh saying that if he brought up the matter with them again, he would be forced to leave his house.

Rajesh said he was scared and busy with his wife's treatment so he did not approach the police earlier.

Shahibaug police registered a complaint of causing hurt, uttering abusive words, criminal intimidation, abetment and wrongful restraint against Patni, Kesarimal and Shah.
